About

Hey — I'm Aylen. I've spent the last 20+ years knee-deep in real estate contracts, timelines, and inboxes that should honestly come with a warning label. I've worked with buyers, sellers, lenders, and title companies — and I've survived every "where's that form?" meltdown you can imagine.

After writing thousands of emails to clean up messes I didn't create, I finally thought: What if I gave agents and TCs the exact words they need — before the panic sets in?

So I built BossyEmail. Not to replace you. Not to turn you into a robot. But to hand you the shortcut to sounding like the pro you already are — just without the 11pm eye twitch.

This isn't some startup experiment. It's a tool built by someone who's been there — probably in heels, sweating through a closing with no AC and a missing wire transfer.

Welcome to your new sidekick. You're gonna love what we built here.
